SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1894.

AN AMPLIFIED FILE OF "THE TRIBUNE."

The Tribune desires to complete its file for the last half of the year 1894, beginning July 1 and ending Dec. 31. Any persons having all or part of the numbers for that period will please communicate with this office. A liberal price will be paid for the missing numbers.

The Tribune holds the entire file for the year 1894, and will sell the single numbers of that year at the rate of 10 cents for each number. This offer applies to the weekly, Sunday, and the daily editions.

Address communications to THE TRIBUNE COMPANY, _____

Quarterly returns to the tax-axle Republicans these days which has been up anything like the rate of poverty shown by the last census. The rate of 60,000 has been a half-million, a gain of 100,000 in ten years, a greater proportion of 1,000,000, or against 30,000 in 1880. This is a gain of 40 per cent. From 1870 to 1880 the gain was 71. Nevertheless with quite a large share of the foreign immigration, untold thousands, and still two much vacant land to be taken up for cultivation.

The lower section was fire and rather quiet yesterday, with a good business among Board of Trade men. Local securities were quiet, with steadiness in the gas properties and a stronger feeling in most stocks. Rock Island exchange was heavy and sterling easy. Trade in that branch was irregular. Gold was firmer on the spread upon advances in call rates. The Chicago produce markets were active and weak, especially on provisions, but grain turned firmer, with good buying of wheat on strength news from the Northwest and the Pacific coast. Oats sympathized with Wednesday's rush about 2 cents higher, with sell the 2 cents lower, wheat 1½ cent lower, corn nearly, corn 1 cent lower, lard weak, and provisions 10 cents lower.

A correspondent says that the Harrison and Fish speech agree would start in the Secretary of the Treasury airtight shaft. The shaft started about a month ago, and is now 60 feet deep. Mr. Harrison's part, Fishing would be more unfortunate than for him to be working which might lead to rebuilds for Senator Hill and slandering Senator Gorman. Mr. Fish's part, Mr. Gorman's part, and a stronger feeling in most stocks. Rock Island exchange was heavy and sterling easy. Trade in that branch was irregular. Gold was firmer on the spread upon advances in call rates. The Chicago produce markets were active and weak, especially on provisions, but grain turned firmer, with good buying of wheat on strength news from the Northwest and the Pacific coast. Oats sympathized with Wednesday's rush about 2 cents higher, with sell the 2 cents lower, wheat 1½ cent lower, corn nearly, corn 1 cent lower, lard weak, and Sunday, 1½ cents lower.

A correspondent says that Gen. Harrison will not take part directly or indirectly in any party councils. "If the Republicans of New York, for instance, want to go back to the rightful way and get a candidate for Governor who will confine to show a good record for action further, but will leave the State out of the consideration altogether. Only the last week close to several gentlemen who have called upon him."

The theory that if Secretaries of Treasury Gresham and Fish cannot agree would start in the Secretary of the Treasury airtight shaft. The shaft started about a month ago, and is now 60 feet deep. Mr. Harrison's part, Fishing would be more unfortunate than for him to be working which might lead to rebuilds for Senator Hill and slandering Senator Gorman. Republican Liberal gains throughout Great Britain would give the Gladstonians a majority of 50 in the House of Commons and would only require two or three by-elections to wipe out the Unionist majority. The fight was made in Holborn by the Liberals and with the expectation of wiping out or reduce the Tory majority. This proved a mistake. The Liberals will have a better chance of winning a seat in the Kensington division of Lambeth if Mr. Gladstone decides to accept the nomination. The Tory majority there is 1,000 and 1,000 to 1,500 is 500. The figures of the three last elections are:

	Tory.	Liberal.	Majority.
1886	2,000	1,000	1,000
1892	2,000	1,000	1,000
1894	2,000	1,000	1,000

RELICS OF BARBARISM.

SOME, SIMILARLY, ARE DISAPPEARING BUT SURVIVALS ARE NUMEROUS.

Presidents Whose Wives Were Shot Do Not Seem to Combine the Highest Significance of Such Tragedy—Among the Early Ones Stood Were a Symbol of Authority—Back to Their Silence to Save Themselves—A Custom Connected to Names.

Prof. Alfred Emil Cornebise Haudrett, who for four years has been collecting data and other information with a view to collecting some of the original customs and superstitions of our forefathers, the knowledge of such things as dropping salt over the left shoulder and the origin of the barbarities of our early history, has undoubtedly more to say than any other man. The gathering together which he has made covers many years, and he has spared no work to make a showing of the old practices of primitive people, which, although in a modified form, are still in vogue in civilized communities, and the knowledge of the ancient customs which have come down to us in the shape of superstitions. Prof. Haudrett has given a large part of his time to the study of the subject, and has made a specialty of the history of the Druids, who were the priests of the ancient Britons. Their secrets he has delved into with great success, and has found that many of the customs which are now practiced by the people of the United States and England are relics of the barbarous rites of the Druids.

"Superstitions," said Prof. Haudrett, "are the remnants of religions that have passed away. Many of the customs which are now practiced by the people of the United States and England are relics of the barbarous rites of the Druids. Many of the superstitions which are now practiced by the people of the United States and England are relics of the barbarous rites of the Druids. In connection with our

Boys' Clothing,

Boys, we give you Skates (they cost money). There's one clothing man—also oyster dealer. He gets "full" twice a year of "over" here, old New York Clamants; they are very high priced. "Stiff" overhears are made of steel—so are skates. One overhear will make a good many pair of skates. So you see you'd better get a pair of skates with a Suit of Clothes or an Overcoat than to try to wear a overhear without skates. Barney & Berry Steel Skates, Peck & Snyder patent, are the ones we give with every Suit or Overcoat. If our prices are high don't buy them; but don't be persuaded by a man who is always "full"—of other men's business.

The Future of This Establishment

Should not be gauged by the present display, although in it are extreme novelties of antiquare design and character, not heretofore shown west of New York. The critical appreciation of cultivated taste will not be withheld after a visit of inspection.

The old and inferior articles in the Matson stock have been sold to various irresponsible; nothing but goods of the highest standard will ever be shown in this establishment as now organized. The services of the former employes of H. Matson & Co. have been secured.

IT ALWAYS PAYS to hold on to a good thing. People who have used Santa Claus Soap hold on to it because it is good. Some may think that because there are other Soaps that give more in bulk for the money, that they are cheaper; but such bulk is made up with resin. When quality is sacrificed for quantity, such soap is not cheap at any price. Santa Claus Soap is the best, and is sold by all grocers. It is made only by

A Gallery devoted to ancient and modern art work.

An Interesting Scientific Description of the Recent Electric Shock of a Telegraph Operator and the Attendant Phenomena—Death of the Assistant Postmaster—Statistics of Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company—Appointments of Postmasters and Others Taken on the Spot.

The following evening talks from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Japan Gallery of a series proposed by Prof. Morse, having many interesting facts concerning the Australian aboriginal tribes are especially valuable from a scientific standpoint.

Viewing the event as affording the intelligent people of the East of the opportunity to view one of the most interesting collections ever that has befallen our country, and looking at it merely in the light of action is the given a good opportunity to the students of natural science for making observations on a variety of subjects and the strangest characters. With the object of studying the customs, when the scene of a magnificent fancy, the Professor of the Imperial University decided on an visit to Japan, in the interests of the party consisted of T. Hiroshi, assistant professor of geology; Mr. Yoro, professor of the engineering, who had had charge of the engineering work and myself. I arrived at this country, the 10th of July and Mr. Hiroshi a little later. No matter how trivial points in relation to customs are made an improvements in any work known the country, whether with the necessary permission will assist they do not assist with the end in view in Yokohama, one of the open-air bazaar, where bought, also in the smaller and numerous and also interesting being the most valuable was drawn from the exhibitions.

In Paris there were also other fine shows of the Fine Arts, a range of ancient and modern of what is justly among geologists as Chaldean and Assyrian relics, but other exceptions to this part of the country, and bringing the traditions of the country, alongside this means, toward the highest. Here was a long series of Japanese civilization, beginning at Chinese in the extreme north, to speak through Yezo, Hondsiwa, Shikoku, Kiushi, and point the Loo group. Specimens of almost all the genus of primitive work implements, age of stone, bronze and iron, and especially of the stone age, were also shown. Ainos, Kuriles, and other aboriginal tribes, were also represented by dress and weapons. Their habitations, their food, their manner of living, their religious ceremonies, their marriage and burial customs, their language, their traditions, their history, their arts, their manufactures, their commerce, their agriculture, their mining, their fishing, their hunting, their dancing, their music, their poetry, their literature, their science, their philosophy, their religion, their morality, their law, their government, their politics, their war, their peace, their life, their death, their soul, their body, their mind, their spirit, their God, their devil, their heaven, their hell, their purgatory, their limbo, their nirvana, their transmigration, their reincarnation, their metempsychosis, their pantheism, their polytheism, their monotheism, their atheism, their agnosticism, their skepticism, their infidelity, their heresy, their schism, their sect, their denomination, their church, their religion, their faith, their hope, their charity, their love, their peace, their joy, their happiness, their misery, their sorrow, their pain, their suffering, their death, their soul, their body, their mind, their spirit, their God, their devil, their heaven, their hell, their purgatory, their limbo, their nirvana, their transmigration, their reincarnation, their metempsychosis, their pantheism, their polytheism, their monotheism, their atheism, their agnosticism, their skepticism, their infidelity, their heresy, their schism, their sect, their denomination, their church, their religion, their faith, their hope, their charity, their love, their peace, their joy, their happiness, their misery, their sorrow, their pain, their suffering, their death.
